LESSON 4: MEMORANDUM

Motherhood in Scripture

Genesis 3:20:

The man gave his wife the name “Eve,” because she was the mother of all the living. Have you ever thought of eve as our mother? Interesting concept.

Exodus 20:12: Honor your father and your mother, that you may have a long life in the land the LORD your God is giving you. ‘This is what every child ought to do as well as adults to those who are our biological parents or in terms of the extended family lifestyle.’ Strangers; whom we meet, ought to be respected in the same way we respect our biological parents. Respect your neighbours as you would respect your parents.

Reflect on these readings Cherish your loved ones, your parents as if you are only living for this day every day.

Reflection: Task 4 Write s a short article in which you:

Spend a quiet moment picturing in your mind, your mother and father.

NB: Some of us either have only a Father or Mother it is fine. If you have a grandmother, grandfather, uncle, aunt or any guardian who plays the role of parent will stand in as parents.

- Play a song that you would dedicate to them. Since you are home, invite them to listen to the special song you have chosen for them. Give the title in your article.
- Tell them how special they are to you.
- Thank them for all that they do for you
- Perhaps you can mention extra special things they have done for you.
- Pray together the prayer for parents in the Mother’s day article.
- Take a picture of all of you together
- I hope you are happy together
- Have you really given them a lot of help and obeyed them during this time at home? Will you continue to do this until you finally leave the house and get a job somewhere when you are ready.  Well done Your parents may evaluate you out of 20 Marks. Comment and signature of parents please. Proceed to lesson 5.
